

The World Transformed

Programme

Contents

Day

Page #

Saturday 23rd

4-10

Sunday 24th

12-21

Monday 25th

24-33

Tuesday 26th

34-42

Accessibility

All our venues are wheelchair accessible and have accessible bathrooms. Some venues may have a separate entrance for wheelchair users so please look for signs or ask a volunteer. For more information visit: theworldtransformed.org/venues

If there's any specific support or assistance you may need during the festival please email wafa@theworldtransformed.org

A creche is available on Saturday 23rd (10.00 - 17.00) & Sunday 24th (09.00 - 17.00) at 37 Middle St, Brighton BN1 1AL.

In all venues, between 11.00 and 17.00, we will be providing child friendly spaces where parents can drop their children (4+) off. They will be in full view of the parents.

A The World Transformed wristband grants you access to all activities aside from the opening and closing parties. Please note, however, that each session will operate on a first-come-first-serve basis and each venue has a limited capacity. Please arrive early to the sessions you want to participate in. Tickets for the parties are available at theworldtransformed.org/get-tickets

Venues

Synergy/Synergy Arts Cafe:
78 West St, BN1 2RA

Friends' Meeting House:
Ship St, Brighton BN1 1AF

Fabrica:
39 Duke St, BN1 1AG

68 Middle Street:
Middle St, Brighton BN1 1AL

Komedia:
44-47 Gardner St, Brighton BN1 1UN

Sallis Benney Theatre:
58-67 Grand Parade, BN2 0JY

Community Base:
113 Queens Road, Brighton BN1 3XG

Brighthelm Centre:
North Rd, BN1 1YD, UK

PLATF9RM: Floor 6, Tower Point, 44 North Road, BN1 1YR

Welcome

Welcome back to The World Transformed. For the second year running we'll be bringing you the most exciting ideas, the most inspiring movements, and the best parties. Taking place across nine venues in the heart of Brighton, all a short walk from the Labour Party Conference, this year's festival will be bigger and more accessible than last. We hope you enjoy yourself as much as we've enjoyed organising it. And what a few months it's been. After the General Election it's more important than ever that we get together, celebrate our success and build our movement. We've created this space to help do that, and we want you to fill it with your energy and ideas.

The World Transformed Team

Design by Arby Hisenaj
@arbyhisenaj

Photography By David Walters
dwliverpoolphotography.co.uk

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:40 Home Truths: Housing is a Feminist Issue	Whether spending a higher proportion of their earnings on rent or being more likely to be affected by the bedroom tax, women are hit hardest by the housing crisis. Now more than ever, housing is a feminist issue. Join us to talk about the impact of the housing crisis on women and how we organise the fight-back. These 3 sessions are organised by Mums4Corbyn	Chair: Samiah Anderson (New School Economics, Goldsmiths) Dawn Foster (Guardian Journalist) Daisy-May Hudson (Film-maker with Experience of Homelessness) Yvette Williams (Justice4Grenfell)	Synergy
13:00 – 14:40 'A Woman's place is...': Radical Demands From the Grassroots	From the vote to wages for housework, women have always been getting organised and making radical demands on society as well as in their own movements. These demands often shine light on areas long-ignored by otherwise progressive movements and, most importantly, force radical change. What demands should women be making today, and how do we realise these demands? In answering these questions, we'll be taking inspiration from movements past and present, including the Black Panthers.	Shami Chakrabarti (Shadow Attorney General) Maya Goodfellow (Journalist) English Prostitutes Collective Vanessa Olorenshaw (Author of Liberating Motherhood) Helen Hester (Academic) Nadine Houghton (M4C)	Synergy
15:00 – 16:40 Whose Job is it Anyway?: Radical Childcare	Finding childcare that fits around the reality of women's lives is increasingly difficult and the quality of childcare and state subsidies is piecemeal. Worse still, childcare costs in the UK are the highest in the world and yet childcare professionals are some of the lowest paid. Parents and carers know there has to be something better. Let's discuss what that might look like, and how we get it.	Chair: Natasha Josette (Momentum Kids) Tracy Brabin MP (Shadow Minister for Early Years) Andrea Marie (New Socialist) Camille Barbagallo (Plan C) Selma James (Global Women's Strike)	Synergy

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 13:30 Sensorial Studies for Clothing and Bodies	We'll engage in an experimental approach to clothing design ideas, relationships between bodies and garments, and our connection with others. Experimenting with materials through different sensorial and design exercises, we'll learn not from the final result, but through the ideas that emerge from the process.	Renata Minoldo (Visual Artist and Photographer)	Synergy Arts Cafe
11:00 – 12:40 How the Labour Party Works	Do you know what happens at your branch meeting? Would you like to stand as a councillor? This session guides you through the structures of the Labour Party from the perspective of a new member called Jo. Jo gets involved in politics because she cares about education policy. We'll track her journey through attending her local branch, CLP, Conference and eventually as a councillor. This session will help you get to grips with the machine that is the Labour Party. Organised by Momentum
11:00 – 12:40 The Corbyn Effect: Two Years On	In two years British politics has been turned on its head, and nowhere more unexpectedly than Jeremy Corbyn's ascent to leader of The Labour Party. Few saw it coming, and even fewer thought Labour would come out of the last election with its reputation enhanced. Join the authors of The Corbyn Effect, a new collection of essays, and find out how this happened, what Corbyn represents, and the limitations & potential of 'Corbynism.' This session will serve as the official launch of The Corbyn Effect. Copies will be available at the event.	Chair: James Stafford (Co-editor, Renewal Journal) Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL) Monique Charles (Post-doctoral Researcher in Grime Music) Florence Sutcliffe-Braithwaite (Co-editor, Renewal Journal) Mark Perryman (Editor, The Corbyn Effect (Lawrence & Wishart) and co-founder of Philosophy Football)	Friends Meeting House Main Space

Saturday 23rd

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:40 Disability Activism and the Labour Manifesto	More information on this session will be published nearer the time of festival. Go to theworldtransformed.org/programme to get the latest updates.		Friends Meeting House Lecture Room
13:00 – 14:40 Dangerous Deals in the Dark: Trade After Brexit	After the referendum, the UK government is obsessively pursuing a ‘free trade’ agenda, pushing for deals with Trump and planning ‘empire 2.0’ in Africa. But ‘free trade’ isn’t what it’s cracked up to be. As well as threatening workers’ rights and environmental protections, the UK government is negotiating behind closed doors and preventing the public or parliament from any control over the process. Join a participatory discussion about corporate power and what we can do about it. Organised by Global Justice Now	Facilitator: Nick Dearden (Global Justice Now)
13:00 – 14:40 Lifelong Education: What Could Labour’s National Education Service Look Like?	The Labour manifesto announced a cradle to grave, free at the point of use National Education Service, modelled on the NHS. Yet to make this radical vision a reality, it will require teachers, students, parents and activists to take an active role in developing this early-stage policy. What challenges do we need to overcome in the current system? How can we win the argument about why the NES is necessary? What would a lifelong, comprehensive education service really look like, and what role could it play in transforming society more generally?	Chair: Holly Rigby (Teacher & Activist) Melissa Benn (Author and Educationalist) Christine Blower (International Secretary, NUT) Madeleine Holt (More Than a Score)	Friends Meeting House Main Space

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 – 14:40 Fighting Back Against Debtfare	UK personal debt is back at its pre-crisis peak, with an estimated 7.6 million people spending more than a quarter of their income on debt payments, and tens of thousands reliant on high cost credit just to make it to the end of the month. This session will look at the root causes of and solutions to the crisis, including whether it's time to push for a debt write-off. Organised by Jubilee Debt Campaign	Kate Belgrave (Blogger on Social Security Cuts) Ilyas Nagdee (Black Students Officer, NUS) David Graeber (Author of Debt: The First 5000 Years) Callum Cant (Brighton-based IWGB member) Sarah-Jayne Clifton (Director, Jubilee Debt Campaign)	Friends Meeting House Lecture Room
14:30 – 16:30 The Collective Matter of Making	An ongoing project exploring the symbiotic relationship between making and thinking. Through daily drop-in workshops we invite you to mould, model and get messy together; using clay as a medium for creative collaboration and social engagement, and making as a vessel for thinking. As Donna Haraway once said 'good thinking always happens at the moment of speechlessness'.	Emily Woolley (Artist and Member of School of the Damned)	Synergy Arts Cafe
15:00 – 16:40 Persuasive Conversations	Whether we have 1 or 5 years before the next election we need to be having conversations with our neighbours, friends, teachers, nurses, about the Labour Party's vision for society. Understanding how people think about politics and how to deal with difficult conversations is crucial. This participatory session provides people with a simple framework for communicating political ideas with people who may have very different preconceptions and background knowledge. Organised by Momentum	Beth Foster-Ogg (Momentum Training Organiser) Adam Klug (Former Momentum National Organiser)	Friends Meeting House Lecture Room

Saturday 23rd

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
15:00 – 17:00 Don't Let My Past Be Your Future	Clive Lewis MP and WW2 veteran Harry Leslie Smith discuss Harry's new book, Don't Let My Past Be Your Future, a survival guide for today's generations and a memoir about persevering through difficult times with one's dignity and optimism intact.	Harry Leslie Smith (WW2 Veteran and Author) Clive Lewis (MP for Norwich South)	Friends Meeting House Main Space
15:00 – 17:00 Black Journalism Fund Open Editorial Meeting	Launched by Red Pepper magazine in early 2017, the Black Journalism Fund has been convening monthly open meetings in London, Leeds, and now at The World Transformed in Brighton, where POC writers, thinkers, organisers and activists can share stories, skills and experience and help set a collective editorial agenda on race across multiple publications. Come and hear from recent participants and get involved! All welcome, new writers and seasoned professionals alike. POC only. Organised by the Red Pepper Magazine Black Journalism Fund	Ashish Ghadiali (Co-Editor, Red Pepper) K. Biswas (Writer, Black Journalism Fund [BJF]) Rebecca Omonira-Oyekanmi (Writer-in-Residence, Lacuna Magazine) Moussa Sylla Amine (Community Organiser, The Selby Centre) Ayo Wallace (Writer, BJF) Carol Sidney (Writer, BJF) Dipesh Pandya (Writer and Activist, BJF)
17:15 – 19:00 Play: The Enemies Within	At the end of the 1984/5 Miners' Strike a team of actors recorded verbatim stories of South Yorkshire miners, their wives and families. This became The Enemies Within, a show that stunned London that summer; a story of determination, courage and humour in the face of media lies and police brutality. Eight of the original cast present a 'script-in-hand' version to inspire those who still seek a socialist future for the many, not the few.	By Ron Rose Directed by David Thacker	Synergy

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
17:30 – 19:15 Labour Women Leading - Making Our Vision a Reality Organised by Labour Women Leading	With Labour on a strong election footing and parliamentary selections underway in key seats, this session will seek to encourage the selection of candidates from diverse backgrounds supportive of the direction taken by the new leadership, and ask what Labour can do to be more supportive of women, in an outside the party. Hear from members of the Labour Front Bench, trade union activists and representatives from Labour's NEC.	Cat Smith (Shadow Minister for Voter Engagement) Liz Davies (Former Labour Councillor) Ruth Hayes (Centre Director, Islington Law Centre) Christine Blower (Former Gen. Sec. NUT) Emma Dent Coad (MP for Kensington) Claudia Webbe (Labour NEC) Maria Exall (CWU)	Brighthelm Centre
17:30 – 19:10 New Technologies, New Politics	Since the inventions of agriculture and writing, technology has endured an intimate relationship with politics, serving to both disrupt and uphold concentrations of power. But do the technologies of the new century, from computing to synthetic biology, create a new set of possibilities? Are they the bridge to a different kind of society.	Aaron Bastani (Founder Novara Media) David Harvey (Professor of Anthropology & Geography) Paul Mason (Author of PostCapitalism) Alice Bell (Writer, Technology)	Sallis Benney Theatre
17:30 – 19:10 Our World: Young People Creating Art, Creating Change Organised by Grime4Corbyn	This hands-on session led by Grime4Corbyn and guests will go beyond the 'grime artists back Corbyn' shock election headlines. We'll look at the art, media and networks that young people are producing by themselves, for themselves, every day. We'll also look at the threats that young people are forced to struggle with - and the impact their creative work has on us all.	Becka Hudson (Grime4Corbyn) Kemmi Morgan (Grime4Corbyn) Temí Mwale (4Front Project)	Synergy Arts Cafe
19:30 – 21:00 Spoken Word	Following 'Our World', there will be an evening of spoken word at the Arts Cafe ft. Pete the Temp, Mrisi and Rowan McCabe

Saturday 23rd

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
19:00 – 20:00 The Community Within	Following a performance of The Enemies Within (pg. 8), cast-member and acclaimed actress Margot Leicester, Christine Peace of the Orgreave Truth and Justice Campaign and Richard Burgon MP will discuss the Miners' Strike and the community bonds that were at its foundation, and what Labour can learn from this.	Margot Leicester (Actress) Christine Peace (Orgreave Truth and Justice Campaign) Richard Burgon MP (Shadow Secretary of State for Justice)	Synergy
19:30 – 21:30 Hello to the Working Class?	GE2017 saw a partial re-emergence of class politics, with Labour pushing a narrative of a society divided between the haves and the have-nots. Yet some claim Labour is leaking support among the working class, as it becomes the party of liberal metropolitans—the supposed antithesis of a white working class. Yet what does it mean to be working class in a post-industrial society? And what would a modern class politics - of and for working class-people - look like?	Gargi Bhattacharyya (Professor of Sociology, Centre For Migration, Refugees and Belonging) Laura Pidcock (MP for North West Durham) Faiza Shaheen (Director, Class) Beth Redmond (Labour Activist) Roger Lewis (DPAC)
19:30 – 21:30 Why the Pundits Don't Understand Politics Anymore	Elections and referendums have come thick and fast over the last four years, and with them a long line of journalists who keep getting it wrong. Is this because most journalists are out of touch with public opinion and unable to understand a shifting political landscape, or because we've entered a uniquely volatile period in British politics, making predictions increasingly difficult? Join our panel of experts and find out.	Chair: Kirsty Major (Commissioning Editor, The Independent) Ash Sarkar (Senior Editor, Novara Media) Matt Zarb-Cousin (Former Spokesperson for Jeremy Corbyn) Rachel Shabi (Freelance Journalist) Stephen Bush (Special Correspondent, New Statesman)	Sallis Benney Theatre

The World Transformed LIVE

At the Synergy
Centre

Sat 23rd Sep:

POP CAMPAIGN PRESENTS

FEMINIST JUKEBOX

Al,
The Native
girls can't dj

and more!

Tue 26th Sep:

HORSE MEAT DISCO

SOWETO

4 inch

RUM COMMITTEE

and more!

Tickets £2 OTD w/ TWT
wristband/£5 without.

Doors open 8:30PM

Tickets £4 OTD w/ TWT
wristband/£8 without.

Doors open 8PM

The Synergy Centre,
78 West St, Brighton
BN1 2RA

Advance tickets at the theworldtransformed.org

Featuring:
THE FIX.

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:40 What's Missing From our Democracy? Lessons From Home and Abroad	The enthusiasm of new Labour members for door knocking was a key factor underpinning Labour's fantastic election result. But many activists felt frustrated by the cold instrumentalism of tactics like 'Voter ID.' How do we strengthen links between progressive parties and communities? What can we learn from community organising and progressive movements from around the world? Come, listen and discuss with key organisers from Spain, Greece and the UK.	Chair: Aydin Dikerdem (Labour Councillor) Amina Gichinga (HACAN East) Laia Bertran (Organiser with Barcelona en Comú) Marina Prentoulis (Former Syriza Spokesperson) Martin Smith (Head of Community Organising, The Labour Party)	Synergy
13:00 – 14:40 Building Democracy's Digital Weapons	A new generation of apps revolutionised the way this year's general election was fought, with tools like My Nearest Marginal flooding Conservative seats and games such as Corbyn Run getting a new generation involved in politics. Hear from the people behind the apps and come together with developers to create the next set of secret weapons. These 3 sessions are part of The World Transformed's 'Pop-up Think Tank' devoted to exploring democracy today, in the party and wider society.	Chair: Kirsty Major (The Independent) Winnie Wong (Co-Founder of People For Bernie 2016) Ben Soffa (Head of Digital Organising at the Labour Party) Rosa Carbo-Mascarell (Corbyn Run)
15:00 – 16:40 Radical Democracy and Twenty First Century Socialism	Will Labour members ever have a real say over policy, candidate selection and political strategy? Should we use digital technologies to facilitate that? And what are our aspirations for democracy in the UK? Is it really enough for socialists to rely on forms of local and parliamentary democracy that have remained essentially unchanged for nearly a century? How can we make government, workplaces, businesses, communities, cities, media, unions, schools and other institutions democratic?	Janine Booth (Trade Unionist) Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL) Clive Lewis (MP for Norwich South) Jon Lansman (Chair of Momentum)

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
09:30 – 10:45 Stuart Hall Reading Group	From Sunday to Tuesday, every morning at 68 Middle Street, Jeremy Gilbert will lead a daily reading group looking at key essays by one of the British left's greatest thinkers. All welcome - prior reading is advisable, but not compulsory. All texts are available online for free. Sunday: Stuart Hall (1958), A Sense of Classlessness Monday: Stuart Hall (1979), The Great Moving Right Show Tuesday: Stuart Hall (2011), The Neoliberal Revolution	Facilitator: Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL)	68 Middle Street Board Room
09:30 – 10:45 How to Run A Successful Momentum Group	Across the country, local Momentum groups have been taking part in community action campaigns, political education workshops, cultural events and more. But running a successful local group presents activists with many challenges: how can we recruit more active members? What is the role of Momentum groups - both in the community and your local Labour Party? This will be a participatory workshop and discussion on how to energise and activate your local Momentum group. Organised by Momentum/Talk Socialism	Holly Rigby (Political Education Officer, Camberwell Green) Jamie Driscoll (Newcastle Tyne and Wear Momentum)	68 Middle Street
11:00 – 13:30 Sensorial Studies for Clothing and Bodies	We'll engage in an experimental approach to clothing design ideas, relationships between bodies and garments, and our connection with others. Experimenting with materials through different sensorial and design exercises, we'll learn not from the final result, but through the ideas that emerge from the process.	Renata Minolda (Visual Artist and Photographer)	Synergy Arts Cafe

Hackathon

@ PLATF9RM

10:00 –
17:00

Women's Game Jam

Sat 23rd

Games are powerful. They can spark conversations, inspire movements and engender empathy across barriers. At the Women's Game Jam we'll be making games to tackle policy and politics. We'll provide a series of tools to teach you how to make games and an opportunity to team up to make them a reality - no programming skills needed. So bring a laptop and let's make games to change the world. Already a game making guru? This is a chance to show us what you've got and join a community of political game developers.

This game jam is aimed at women (trans included) and we request this is respected.

10:00 –
17:00

Momentum's Digital Hub Hackathon

Sun 24th –
Tues 26th

From Sunday 24th to Tuesday 26th (10am – 5pm) at PLATF9RM, Momentum will be hosting a Digital Hub weekend. We'll be bringing together tech activists and engineers committed to building digital tools to support Momentum's organising and activism.

This three-day event will be a chance to get on board with Momentum's tech projects, build and design solutions to problems faced by grassroots organisers, and help build the community around Momentum's political technology that will help win the next election.

At the hack weekend, you're free to work on whichever projects you wish: start new projects with other developers or contribute to existing work. Our three priorities for the weekend are upgrading Momentum's nascent digital democracy portal MxV, improving the Momentum website and our membership onboarding. Previous Momentum tech weekend creations include: Call For Corbyn, MyNearestMarginal, Election WhatsApp Cascade and much more.

Join us this weekend and help build the tools for a movement!

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:40 The Viral Video Election	#GE2017 saw social media square off against the mainstream media. While print journalism was heavily skewed against Corbyn, Facebook and Twitter enabled millions of people to share videos that shifted the public mood and outflanked the Tory campaign. Join experts and the grassroots filmmakers behind some of the biggest viral videos of the election to discuss how we can further trump the tabloids and beat the Tories next time. Organised by Momentum	Penny Andrew (Researcher for University of Sheffield) Paul Nicholson (Producer of the Momentum Video Team) Dana Airapetjana (Campaigns Manager for The Small Axe) India Thorogood (Digital Campaigner, Formerly The Labour Party)	68 Middle Street

11:00 – 12:40 Football From Below	Even with Corbyn at No. 10 – the address not the squad number – short of nationalising football the prospects for change remain remote. Any such policies from above to bring football back to its roots are welcome, but this session develops the idea of ‘football from below.’ Using an imaginative combination of spoken word, visuals and participatory discussion we’ll be challenging the idea of football as a game to watch and consume by reimagining football as a social movement.
--	--

Organised by Philosophy Football

Chair: Mark Perryman (Co-founder, Philosophy Football)	Joe Kennedy (Author Games Without Frontiers)
Attila the Stockbroker (Punk football poet)	Kadeem Simmonds (Sports Ed., the Morning Star)
Bobby Kasanga (Founder Hackney Wick FC)	Mark Doidge (Contributor Fan Culture in European Football and the Influence of Left Wing Ideology)
Suzy Wrack (Guardian Weekly Women’s Football Blog)	Naomi Westland (Directed Amnesty International UK’s #FootballWelcomes Pro-refugees Campaign)
Heather Wakefield (UNISON, Head of Local Government)	Steve North (Actor and Co-author Build a Bonfire:How Football Fans United to Save Brighton and Hove Albion)
Jacquie Agnew (Founder Equality FC Initiative)

Community Base

Sunday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 – 14:40 How to Win	To win at the ballot box progressives must become a community organising force on the ground, winning campaigns led by ‘everyday people’ on the issues that matter to them. How can we take issues raised on the doorstep into winnable campaigns with those affected at the forefront? From winning campaigns on decent and affordable housing to good jobs to taking on the City of London Corporation, We Can Win’s masterclass in organising will offer activists the tools and tactics that can turn ideas into action that will win. Organised by We Can Win	Facilitators: Dan Firth (We Can Win) & Sotez Chowdhury (We Can Win)	68 Middle Street
13:00 – 14:40 How Should Labour Deal with the Global Economy?	The economic dogma of the last 30 years has turned society into a gigantic marketplace, where rights, standards and protections are seen as obstacles to profit. The collapse of this dogma is nothing to lament, but takes with it any sense of progressive internationalism, throwing many back on the outdated certainties of the national economy. A Labour government could set the tone for a global fightback against neoliberalism but in favour of internationalism.	Chair: Sarah-Jayne Clifton (Jubilee Debt Campaign) Nick Dearden (Global Justice Now) Asad Rehman (War on Want)	Fabrica
13:00 – 14:40 What Should Universities Look Like Under a Labour Government? Organised by the National Campaign Against Fees and Cuts	The Conservatives’ vision for Higher Education (HE) is one in which universities are run like businesses and students considered consumers. But with Labour’s pledge to scrap fees, there’s an exciting opportunity for the left to develop and push for its own alternative vision for HE. Come along to this interactive session to generate ideas on the purpose and value of HE, and the kind of policy the left should be pushing for in Labour - beyond scrapping fees - to make this vision a reality.	Hope Worsdale (NCAFC) Rida Vaquas (Member of Momentum NCG) Arianna Tassinari (NCAFC)	Community Base

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
14:30 – 16:30 The Collective Matter of Making	An ongoing project exploring the symbiotic relationship between making and thinking. Through daily drop-in workshops we invite you to mould, model and get messy together; using clay as a medium for creative collaboration and social engagement, and making as a vessel for thinking. As Donna Haraway once said ‘good thinking always happens at the moment of speechlessness’.	Emily Woolley (Artist and Member of School of the Damned)	Synergy Arts Cafe

15:00 – 16:40 Cultural Democracy 1: Relaunching Arts for Labour	‘In every child there is a poem...’ Corbyn’s Glastonbury triumph was a crucial reminder of culture’s power to steer the mood for political change. But what would a truly radical Labour Party cultural policy look like? Drawing on the traditions of Jennie Lee, Raymond Williams, and those who see culture as a basic human aspiration, this session re-launches Arts For Labour as a participatory rethink of what culture is and how policy can be re-made to reflect our culture’s democratic impulse.
--	--

Supported by Red Pepper magazine and the Raymond Williams Foundation

Lois Stonock (Founder, Jennie Lee Institute)	Moussa Sylla Amine (Community Organiser, The Selby Centre)
Loraine Leeson (Visual Artist & Author of Art: Process: Change)	Chris Sonnex (Associate Director, Royal Court Theatre)
Hamish Pirie (Associate Director, Royal Court Theatre)	Nabil Shaban (Actor & Founder of The Graeae)
Chris Sonnex (Associate Director, Royal Court Theatre)	Peter Kennard (Visual Artist, kennardphillips)
Hassan Mahamdallie (Playwright & Author of The Creative Case for Diversity)	Cat Phillips (Visual Artist, kennardphillips)

Fabrica

Sunday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
15:00 – 16:40 Take Back Control From Big Business Organised by Corporate Europe Observatory	Whatever the outcome of the referendum, big business was always going to win. Through the murky world of corporate lobbying, businesses have disproportionate access to decision-making. From deregulating banking, to privatising the NHS, to pursuing dirty energy, millions are spent each year to secure policies that threaten social, environmental and human rights. Now Theresa May's Brexit has the potential to reinforce the stranglehold that corporations have on democracy. Join us to find out how we can stop them.	Facilitator: Sarah Reader (Corporate Europe Observatory) Tamasin Cave (SpinWatch) Pascoe Sabido (Corporate Europe Observatory)	68 Middle Street
15:00 – 16:40 Repowering Britain: What Role for Public Ownership in a Just Climate Transition?	Once-industrial communities across the UK have been hollowed out. Climate change threatens to wipe out civilisation. Drilling North Sea oil will smash through our carbon limits. It's time for sustainable re-industrialisation and clean power owned by the people, for the people. Labour must deliver a just and rapid transition, so Labour Energy Forum explores what a left vision look like, that places workers and communities at the heart of publicly-owned and democratically-run energy.	Cat Hobbs (We Own It) Michael Deas (Researcher, Labour Energy Forum) Claudia Webbe (Cabinet Lead for Energy, Islington Councillor) Jon Burke (Cabinet Member for Energy, Hackney Council) Jo Ram (Platform) Sam Mason (PCS)
17:30 – 19:10 Political Artists in the Age of the Social Movement	What is the political responsibility - if any - of artists? #GE2017 saw interventions from artists driving home the message that votes count and that change was possible and needed. For many, though, the political function of art lies deeper than drumming up votes, while for others, political obsession is a sure-fire way of making boring art. Four acclaimed practitioners, each known for marrying political commitment with innovation, share stories of the ways they've found of being radical and relevant.	Chair: Ashish Ghadiali (Film Maker & Journalist) Barby Asante (Visual Artist/Educator) Ken Loach (Filmmaker) Lowkey (Rap Artist) Rhiannon White (Theatre Director)

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
17:30 – 19:10 Black and Ethnic Minority Representation (BAME) and the Transformative agenda	Over 65% of black and ethnic minority voters chose Labour in the last election. It's vital that BAME voters aren't taken for granted and that BAME activists play a significant role in the party. Although we saw an increase in BAME representation amongst Labour MPs elected, BAME representation throughout the party remains a challenge. Momentum has a vital role to play in changing this and supporting BAME self-organisation, as well as helping to bring about a new wave of activism from communities.	Chairs: Cecile Wright & Huda Elimi (Momentum) Diane Abbott MP (Shadow Home Secretary) Jon Lansman (Chair of Momentum) Cllr. Claudia Webbe (National Executive) Imran Hussain (MP for Bradford East) Kingsley Abrams (Unite- Left & Momentum Black Caucus)	68 Middle Street
17:30 – 19:10 Book Launch: The Way of the Activist Organised by Talk Socialism	When is an emotional argument more effective than a logical one? What are the dynamics that determine whether a local group succeeds or fails? How do ideas spread? What are the key factors that keep volunteers motivated? What's the difference between a dull session and one that leaves people buzzing? Groundbreaking political education group Talk Socialism have answered all these questions in an accessible handbook for activists. They'll be running this book launch as a participatory session for everyone.	Jamie Driscoll (Talk Socialism) Nadia Idle (War on Want) Rachel Broadbent (Talk Socialism) Carl Kennedy (Talk Socialism)	Synergy Arts Cafe
17:30 – 19:10 'Political of a Parallel Reality': Understanding Corbynism	Virtue-signaling, back to the seventies, electoral suicide, politics of a parallel reality, mass hysteria, and a cult of personality—just a few of the lazy attempts to label a movement that seems easier to deride than actually understand. But what actually lies behind the spectacular growth of 'Corbynism'? Join the few journalists that actually tried to find out for a discussion about Corbyn and the Labour Party, two years on.	Alex Nunns (Author of The Candidate) Richard Seymour (Author of Corbyn: The Strange Rebirth of Radical Politics) Maya Goodfellow (Contributor to Corbyn Effect)	Fabrica

Sunday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
17:30 – 19:10	In an age of austerity, it's hard to overstate the accomplishments of the welfare state and the impact reforms would make on the lives of ordinary people today. But how do we chart a course beyond social democracy, towards deeper, more radical transformations of social and political life? What type of movements and social power would we need to make socialism a reality?	Vivek Chibber (co-editor, Socialist Register) Susan Watkins (co-editor, New Left Review) Madeleine Davis (Queen Mary University)	Brighthelm Centre
The Long Road: From Left Government to Socialist Society	Organised by Jacobin

19:30 – 21:10	Following its election performance and a Conservative government in permanent disarray, Labour is within touching distance of government. Yet as the last two years have taught us, nothing is certain in politics. To win the next election Labour must improve in every area and confront a series of strategic challenges emerging from a shifting and fragmented political landscape.
Winning Power

This session will begin with our four 'expert witnesses' each interrogating one of these key strategic challenges. Following this, four new panelists will build on these contributions and explore whether it is simply enough to win office, and do we instead need to build a powerful popular majority behind the Labour Party's programme, being in power.

This session will begin with a contribution from Jeremy Corbyn.

Jeremy Corbyn (Labour Leader)	Aaron Bastani (Founder Novara Media)
Owen Jones (Journalist)	Jenny Lennox (Labour Activist, Walthamstow)
Winnie Wong (Co-Founder of People For Bernie 2016)	Anna Gillett (Labour Activist, Truro & Falmouth)
Dave Ward (Gen. Sec. CWU)	Shelly Asquith (Labour Party Activist)
Ian Lavery MP (Labour Party Co-National Campaign Coordinator)
Becky Bond (Former senior advisor to Bernie 2016)

Synergy

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
19:30 – 21:10 Mental Health	There's a 30% chance that you or someone you know will suffer with their mental health, especially if you're young. The Tory response has been to cut health and social services, exacerbating the problem. But where does the mental health crisis come from in the first place? What is the effect of poverty, work, social media and inequality? And might there be something about capitalism itself that makes us sick?	Chair: Ed Lewis (Demand the Impossible) John Cheetham (Senior Clinical Psychologist) Lisa Rossetti (Labour Activist)	Synergy Arts Cafe
19:30 – 21:10 'What's it all About, Ed?': In Conversation with Ed Miliband	From minister for climate change to leader of the Labour Party, from pushing through the Collins reforms to #Milifandom, few politicians have had a more interesting career than Ed Miliband. What have these experiences taught Ed about politics? How does he look back on his time as Labour leader and what does he think of Labour now? And, thinking big, what are the big challenges for progressives over the next few years?	Ed Miliband MP (Former Leader of the Labour Party) John Harris (Guardian Journalist)	Brighthelm Centre
19:30 – 21:10 'They Shall Not Pass': Fascism and Resistance after Charlottesville	After Charlottesville, the world was left reeling from the apparently sudden upsurge in openly fascist street movements. But others have cautioned that these movements have been long in the making. How do we diagnose the rise of the far right across Europe and North America? What's the relationship between far-right street movements and the formal structures of power? And how can the left build a popular resistance to the far right? Organised by Novara Media	Chair: James Butler (Novara Media) Ash Sarkar (Novara Media) Ben Walters (Anti-Fascist Activist) Eleanor Penny (Novara Media) Bhaskar Sunkara (Jacobin) Kojo Koram (Lecturer at Essex Law School and Activist)	Fabrica

Arts @ The World Transformed 2017

The arts programme will be an experiment in collaboration, evolving over the duration in an attempt to collectively influence the program and generate content. It will bring together artists, filmmakers, leading academics and politicians, and place creative ideas, and artist as tacticians, at the centre of the festival.

Like what you see? As well as these exhibitions we've got even more arts activities listed throughout our main programme.

Creative Chaos @ The Arts Cafe

The Arts Cafe will host an eclectic mix of installations, arts and crafts. Come express yourself through collage, make your mark on our collaborative quilt and discover more besides.

Synergy

Avenue Transformed

In Synergy you'll experience an arts and architecture take over. With graffiti artists, Sinna One and Agent Petruscioni, 'Boolean In String' by Garvan Joseet, and an exhibition from Brandalism.

Brandalism & Friends

This exhibition connects artists from across the world as they share visions of a world in need and possibilities for a world transformed. Hosted by Brandalism, an international collective that utilises the arts as a form of mass protest against the effects of advertising & consumerism. Co-curated by Brandalism, Bill Posters & Florah K-C // brandalism.ch/ @BrandalismUK

Friend's Meeting House Garden

Project play @ Friend's
Meeting House Garden

When a single day is measured by 'productivity', playing allows us to be in the moment, not needing to achieve or produce. Project Play provides an opportunity for communication, mindfulness, and community-building. project-play.co.uk

Fabrica

kennardphillips

kennardphillips are showing work to create an opening for critical thinking. kennardphillips are not making propaganda. The aim is to empower people, thinking beyond headline control. They are about creating powerful, new perspectives, consolidating citizen power, and challenging the right of politicians to dominate the election. kennardphillips.com

Biggs & Collings:
Banner for Global Justice Now

Made from denim for its associations with working people everywhere. Spray paint, as the paint of protest. Embroidery, to raise visual issues of gender, and to the often undervalued skills of women in the developing world. Copper arms and handles partly to evoke working trades, and partly for the practical reason that we need them in the house.

Ed Hall:
TWT 2017 Banner

Ed Hall has been making trade union campaign and exhibition banners for 30 years. They are handmade, stitched, appliqued and often painted. Ed has worked for countless campaigns and for the families and friends of those who have died in police custody. edhallbanners.co.uk

Curated by Jessie Hoskin

Unit: Algorithms for the Beyond

On the brink of the next industrial revolution of robotic technologies, the conditions of our professional and domestic labour will be subject to unprecedented automation. Manchester-based family art collective UNIT will assemble a group of child activists who, though frozen in time, will put forward a series of demands from the pragmatic to the utopian, reworking traditional protest slogans for a post-work future.
@unit_interface
disruptdominantfrequencies.net

NME

Nme is a self-taught street and urban artist, whose work reflects on politics, the world we are living in, and aims to spread love and motivation. 'I just put pencil to paper, knife to card, and hand to can, and try to let the magic happen. I live by the paint and will probably die by the fumes, It's just what I do.'
instagram.com/nme1 // @NmeUrbanART

Alpha/Isis/Eden: By Laura Oldfield Ford

This collective listening experience combines Laura Oldfield Ford's 'sociogeography' practice with the politically charged tones of Jack Latham (aka Jam City). We will drift beneath the narrative of tube adverts and redevelopers, and instead follow London's psychic tremors and intensities, be it moments of collective trauma and erasure, or collective euphoria and resistance. (See Pg. 33 for timings)

Dani Ahrens: Rebel Yarn – Brighton Welcome blanket

The Brighton Welcome Blanket brings together 396 textile squares contributed by over 30 makers, to form a unique artwork representing Brighton's diversity and openness. Local refugee charity Thousand 4 1000 is appealing for 396 new donors to 'sponsor a square' by giving £10 or making regular donations of £1 a month.
rebelyarns.com/welcome-blanket

Hannah Ford: A Divided Nation, 2017

A series of four banners, A Divided Nation replicates the style of 50s circus sideshow banners when visitors were encouraged to leer at 'freaks' from behind a curtain. Today's political landscape is challenging our notions of citizenship, identity and migration—a divided nation, the 48% to the 52%. Hannah Ford invites us to view politicians, inculcating us with their toxic ideas, as today's sideshow 'freaks and geeks.'
invisiblenumbers.co.uk

Imogen Piper: Encoded Revolt

Applying the base 16 computer code 'hexadecimal' to adaptations of the musical systems of Serialism, this work embeds the co-ordinates and surrounding data of airstrikes in Syria within musical compositions, that are then progressively ciphered through compositional techniques. In hearing musical translations of the co-ordinates of airstrikes, listeners emotionally engage with details of quantitative information that wouldn't normally draw focus.
imogenpiper.co.uk
(See Pg. 33 for timings)

Artists for Corbyn: Banner The Artists for Corbyn Banner

On 3rd June 2017, a group of artists and cultural workers from Liverpool & Manchester wrote the names of nearly 2500 artist supporters of Jeremy Corbyn on a banner. After a series of banner drops on the day of the General Election, Marginal Sundays were launched: a bold tour of marginal seats that has seen the banner – and Corbyn's message – shared in public spaces and all weathers.
artists4corbyn.wordpress.com // @Artists4Corbyn

Seize the Memes of Production

Princess Leia, ice cold tinnies and cannibalism are just some of the landmarks of the memetic terrain. Come and track the general election through the memes that both documented and powered Labour's surge, and help build our Meme the Manifesto project.

Kandice Holmes: Reflect/Elect

This intimate Polaroid series documents the voice of marginal seat & youth registration campaigners, gathered together to share the now historic UK Election night 2017. This impromptu project captures the euphoria of mostly strangers, united by the hope offered by Jeremy Corbyn.
https://www.commonunity.space/reflectelect/@cu_space

Political Posters

Catch our political posters exhibition through our venues, ft. Redpepper's poster campaign, the global Occupy movement, Brandalism, Darren Cullen, Pauline Bryan, Jimmy Galvin, Noel Douglas, Kaajal Modi, Peter Kennedy, War on Want, Simon Misra, Zita Holbourne, Special Patrol Group, Matt Bonner + more.

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 11:30 A State of the Unions Address	What is the state of the trade union movement today? What challenges and opportunities lie ahead? Join lifelong trade unionist and CWU General Secretary Dave Ward for a tour of the state of the unions. These 6 sessions are part of The World Transformed's 'Pop-up Think Tank' devoted to exploring the challenges and opportunities facing the trade union movement today.	Dave Ward (General Secretary, CWU) Alice Martin (Labour Activist)	Synergy
11:30 – 12:30 Precarious Workers of the World Unite!	Britain is facing an epidemic of insecure work. Zero hour contracts proliferate and millions of workers are denied basic employment rights and protections. Yet across the country workers are getting organised and fighting back. Hear from workers from McStrike and the Picturehouse campaigns, and discuss how precarious workers can win. This session will transition immediately into 'How to Organise a Strike.'	Chair: Owen Espley (War on Want Senior Campaigns Officer) Shen Batmaz (BFAWU) Kelly Rogers (BECTU) Steve Turner (Unite)
12:30 – 13:15 So You Want to Organise a Strike?	Despite the uproar and hysteria, there's no denying the effectiveness and necessity of strikes, especially for a workforce increasingly disempowered by neoliberal reforms. Strikes often follow months, even years, of painstaking organising—but where do we, as workers, even begin? Participate in this fun session on the importance of workplace organising and how you can organise your own campaign.	Nadine Houghton (GMB)

Synergy

Synergy

Synergy

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 – 14:30 Trade Unions and the Technological Revolution	Technology is radically reshaping the nature of work and the workplace. While technological advances are often used to circumvent worker power,, they also present tactical opportunities for workplace organising. Come and explore how workers are responding to technological change and using it to their advantage to fight for better working conditions.	Callum Cant (IWGB, and Deliveroo Rider campaigner) Chris Webb (CWU Head of Communications)	PLATF9RM
13:30–14:45 A Special Relationship? Labour and The Trade Unions	The Labour Party was born from the trade union movement and, though the relationship has been strained at times, the link still remains. This session will examine this relationship and discuss what unions can do at a national and local level to secure a radical Labour government, with focus on their role as cultural and social institutions. We'll also identify the challenges and opportunities that may lie ahead for the unions when Labour are returned to power.	Nadine Houghton (GMB) Karen Lee (MP for Lincoln) Mark Serwotka (General Secretary, PCS) Sam Tarry (TSSA Political Officer & Labour Councillor) Kelly Tomlinson (South East Unite Community)	Synergy
15:00 – 16:40 Building an Industrial Strategy for the 21st Century	What industries will a Labour government invest in? What industries should be brought into public ownership? What role should workers have in designing and implementing such a strategy? Answering these questions will be key to radically reshaping the UK economy in the interests of the many not the few. Drawing on the 'Alternative Models of Ownership' document, and on concepts of economic democracy, this session will set out a vision for an industrial strategy for the 21st century.	Chair Alice Martin (Labour Activist) Joe Guinan (The Democracy Collaborative) Rebecca Long-Bailey MP (Shadow Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy) Kate Hudson (CWU Midlands Regional Secretary)	Synergy

Monday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
09:00 – 10:40 Pint & Politics	Campaigners often win arguments on fairness and social justice, but can we explain where the money will come from? Or why free trade isn't free? Our actor-in-residence will play a swing voter who reads the mainstream press and we'll role-play a pub conversation on the economy. How do we counter 'common sense' economic arguments and avoid boring people stiff? Unless we can be persuasive and win arguments, we'll struggle to build a movement for lasting change.	Lead Facilitator: Jamie Driscoll (Talk Socialism) Rachel Broadbent (Talk Socialism) Carl Kennedy (Talk Socialism)	68 Middle Street
09:30 – 10:45 Meet Momentum: Organising in Your Local Labour Party	Despite seeing an increase in membership many CLPs have not undergone a shift in political direction. Often this is because new members lack the experience and know-how to be effective in their local party. The organisers of this session, Barnsley Momentum, are an active group that has passed motions, played an active role in elections and built strong networks across Yorkshire. Come and find out how they did it, and how you can too.	Jordan Brown (Barnsley Momentum)	Synergy
09:30 – 10:45 Stuart Hall Reading Group	From Sunday to Tuesday, every morning at 68 Middle Street, Jeremy Gilbert will lead a daily reading group looking at key essays by one of the British left's greatest thinkers. All welcome - prior reading is advisable, but not compulsory. All texts are available online for free. Sunday: Stuart Hall (1958), A Sense of Classlessness [see pg. 13] Monday: Stuart Hall (1979), The Great Moving Right Show Tuesday: Stuart Hall (2011), The Neoliberal Revolution [see pg. 35]	Facilitator: Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL)	68 Middle Street Board Room

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 13:00 The Collective Matter of Making	An ongoing project exploring the relationship between making and thinking. Through daily workshops we invite you to mould, model and get messy together; using clay as a medium for creative collaboration and social engagement, and making as a vessel for thinking. As Donna Haraway once said ‘good thinking always happens at the moment of speechlessness’.	Emily Woolley (Artist and Member of School of the Damned)	Synergy Arts Cafe
11:00 – 12:40 Breaking the Habit	Whether it's drink, drugs or gambling, addiction issues affect millions. Families can be torn apart and communities devastated. And yet these issues, which are often symptoms of wider social and economic inequalities, remain stigmatised and often criminalised. Join comedian and activist Russell Brand in conversation with Shadow Health Secretary John Ashworth as they discuss addiction and what a Labour led government could do to facilitate better support and solutions for those affected.	Jon Ashworth MP (Shadow Secretary of State for Health) Russell Brand (Comedian & Actor)	Komedia Main Space
11:00 – 12:40 Cultural Democracy 2: Writing the Manifesto	What would a truly radical Labour Party cultural policy look like? How can culture's transformative potential be unleashed? Drawing on the the previous day's sessions (pg. 16-17) and the idea that culture is something we all participate in, this session puts participatory tools to the task of writing a manifesto that puts culture at the centre not the margins of our social and political lives. What are the key principles that need to be considered? Come down and bring your ideas and experiences to bear on this participatory process for a cultural democracy.	Chair: Jessie Hoskin (Organiser, The World Transformed) Lois Stonock (Founder, The Jennie Lee Institute) Rose Gibbs (Visual Artist) Hassan Mahamdallie (Playwright & Author of The Creative Case for Diversity)	68 Middle Street

Monday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:40 Watch This Space!	It's been a busy year so we're a little late putting this session together. There will be something fantastic happening in this slot, so check our website and app for the latest announcements. Don't miss out!	TBC	Fabrica
11:00 – 12:40 People Not Profit: Reclaiming the NHS	Maybe you've joined Labour to support Corbyn - or have been a member for years - and like Corbyn, you believe that we need a comprehensive, universal, publicly-provided NHS. But there is still a long way to go for the entire party to back this. How do we organise within Labour to defend the NHS? This workshop will explore building a network of NHS activists in Labour that works with unions and health campaigns.	Yannis Gourtsoyannis (Momentum NCG and Member of the BMA Junior Doctors Committee)	Komedia Studio
11:00 – 12:40 How to run a kickass social media campaign	Interested in taking advantage of social media for your local campaigns? Learn how Momentum used social media to promote training and canvassing throughout #GE2017, and how you can use Facebook and Twitter to boost your reach. Whether you are taking on the Tories as a committed canvasser, a local organiser, or a digital activist, this session will equip you with the basic skills to make simple mobile phone videos, grow your online presence, and build highly effective campaigns. Organised by Momentum		68 Middle Street

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 – 14:40 The Northern Way	The North never lost its voice, but government stopped listening. Successive governments prioritised the City of London and global markets, consenting to neoliberalism. The result has been austerity and a centralisation of power. This has led to the North becoming hugely underinvested in infrastructure, education, jobs and housing. This cannot go on. But how do we overcome the neo-liberal policies of central government and the establishment in Westminster to ensure the North is no longer left behind?	Jon Trickett MP (Shadow Minister for the Cabinet Office) John Prescott (Former Deputy Prime Minister) Laura Smith (MP for Crewe and Nantwich) John Grogan (MP for Keighley) Judith Blake (Councillor)	Fabrika
13:00 – 14:40 Whose Media is It Anyway?	As digital change combines with political polarisation, the way in which we consume news and interact with media organisations has changed dramatically. Yet in many ways the media remains the same as it was fifty years ago, with most journalists sharing similar, elite backgrounds, and a handful of individuals owning most newspapers. In this session we'll be discussing the state of the media today and how we create a diverse and democratic media for the 21st century.	Chair: Justin Schlosberg (Chair, Media Reform Coalition) Ellie Mae O'Hagan (Journalist) Bhaskar Sunkara (Jacobin) Clive Lewis MP (Chair of NUJ Group in Parliament) Rebecca Omonira-Oyekanmi (Lacuna Magazine)	Komedia Main Space
13:00 – 14:40 Meeting Brexit Head On	Brexit poses serious challenges to jobs and living standards, as well as threats to the rights of EU nationals in the UK and vice versa. With the prospect of governmental power on the horizon, the left must face up to these challenges. Hear from socialists from the UK and across Europe on how we can protect social rights and maintain solidarity with our European neighbours in the face of rising nationalist sentiment and increasing xenophobia. Organised by Chartist	Chair: Mike Davis (Chartist) Julie Ward (Labour MEP, NW) Marina Prentoulis (Syriza & Chartist Editorial Board) Saranda Bogujevci (Movement of Self-determination MP, Kosovo Parliament) Jozef Weidenholzer MEP (SPÖ & Vice President of Progressive Alliance of Socialists & Democrats)	Komedia Studio

Monday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
14:00 – 16:00 Bern O'Donoghue: Dead Reckoning	From 2015, Bern O'Donoghue's project Dead Reckoning has considered the experiences of displacement and precarious living. Focusing on people behind the statistics, she aims to widen the debate on migration and challenge myths regarding refugees and migrants.	Bern O'Donoghue bern.od@me.com www.bernodonoghue.com	Synergy Arts Cafe
15:00 – 17:00 Liberating Leadership	Alongside Corbyn's call for grassroots participatory democracy, there has been a dramatic turnover in the elected leadership of the Labour Party at every level from the ward committees to the Shadow Cabinet. This workshop will explore the concepts and skills that leading grassroots democracies will require. Its message is that we need to transform 'macho-managers' into 'liberating leaders' if we are to achieve such fundamental transformations in our party, our communities and the UK.	Dr. Joan Walton (Momentum Members' Council and Senior Lecturer at York St John University) Roy Madron (Author & Co-ordinator for Momentum Members' Council)
15:00 – 16:40 Hegemony or One More Heave ? : Building a Progressive Bloc for Transformative Change	What was the nature of Labour's support at the last General Election and how can it be sustained and extended to support a radical progressive government? How can political parties better collaborate with and learn from the democratising impulse of grassroots groups? Join this debate on the value of pluralism in progressive politics, a pluralism that not only includes other parties, but also goes beyond the state and its institutions into civil society. Organised by Compass/Progressive Alliance	Chair: Frances Foley (Compass/Progressive Alliance) Clive Lewis (MP for Norwich South) Hilary Wainwright (Fellow, TNI & Co-editor, Red Pepper) Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL) Lisa Nandy (MP for Wigan) Anthony Barnett (Co-Founder of openDemocracy & Author of The Lure of Greatness: England's Brexit and America's Trump)	Fabrica

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
15:00 – 16:40 On the Ground at Grenfell	Join us for a screening of On the Ground at Grenfell , a film made by 9 young people: survivors, local residents and volunteers. Originally intended as a documentary on the closure of a youth club in North Kensington, when tragedy struck the film-makers began documenting what was happening and focusing on those that volunteered in the aftermath. You'll also hear from these young film-makers, as well as Grenfell survivors and volunteers, about their experiences.	Nendie Pinto-Duschinsky (Director, On the Ground at Grenfell) Swarzy Macaly (Grenfell Volunteer) Samiah Anderson (Film Researcher) Adrianne Mckenzie (Film Researcher) Reiss Saint & Shona Harvey (Local Residents)	Komedia Main Space
17:30 – 17:10 How to Win a Marginal, and Which One Next	While the figure of 40% vote share may have stole the headlines, Labour's performance in the recent general election was remarkable in just how many Conservative marginals were turned into strong Labour majorities. But how did this happen? Come and hear from the Labour MPs and activists who ousted Conservative MPs from seats across the country, and have your say on which Tory seats we're coming for next.	Chair: Holly Rigby (Momentum Activist) Marsha de Cordova (MP for Battersea) Chris Williamson (MP for Derby North) Lloyd Russell-Moyle (MP for Brighton and Kemptown) Sophie Cook (Former Labour Candidate for East Worthing and Shoreham)	Synergy
17:30 – 19:10 Watch This Space!	It's been a busy year so we're a little late putting this session together. There will be something fantastic happening in this slot, so check our website and app for the latest announcements. Don't miss out!	TBC	Synergy Arts Cafe

Monday 24th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
17:15 – 20:00 Playing with Politics: How Games Can Change the World	Games can change the way we think. They're more than just entertainment, they can help us engage, spark conversations and start movements for change. Join the makers of CorbynRun & Fiscal Kombat for a talk on how play can change political discourse. Gamers Corner From 17.15 onwards visit our lounge and play the games that are changing politics.	Chair: Marijam Didzgalvyte (Journalist, Novara Media) Rosa Carbo-Mascarell (Game Designer on CorbynRun) Nicolas Serres (Game Developer on Fiscal Kombat) Andy Payne (Video games entrepreneur and investor)	68 Middle Street
17:30 – 19:10 The Future Of Work: Building an Emancipatory Strategy Organised by Autonomy Think Tank	We have entered a crisis of work: precarious working arrangements are the new normal, automation disadvantages workers and many women still face the 'double day.' What does the work strategy set out in Labour's manifesto do right? How can we improve it so as to sufficiently confront the crisis of work? Our panelists will seek to predict, provoke and debate as to where the world of work is currently heading, and where it should be heading.	Chair: Will Stronge (Autonomy) Helen Hester (Feminist Academic) Nina Power (Author of One Dimensional Woman) Nick Srnicek (Co-author of Inventing the Future) David Frayne (Author of The Refusal of Work)	Fabrika
19:00 – 21:00 Spy Cops: Undercover Political Policing and State Surveillance	More than 1,000 groups have been spied on by Britain's political secret police since 1968. This spying has devastated many lives and reveals a worrying trend among law enforcement and the state towards monitoring and sabotaging legitimate political dissent. Join speakers with direct experience of being spied upon and learn of the extent and consequences of undercover political policing and how we can fight against it. Organised by the Haldane Society of Socialist Lawyers and the Campaign Opposing Police Surveillance	Chair: Liz Davies (Haldane Society) Richard Burgon MP (Shadow Justice Secretary) Helen Steel (Police Spies Out of Lives) Dave Smith (Blacklist Support Group) Shamik Dutta (Solicitor for Broadwater Farm Defence Campaign) Mark Thomas (Author of The Liar's Quartet)	Brighthelm Centre

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
19:30 – 21:30 Governing From the Radical Left	The 2017 general election witnessed possibility being snatched from the jaws of disaster. Despite near total dismissal from pundits, Labour emerged within touching distancing of government—an impressive achievement for a movement still in its infancy. But what happens if Labour wins the next election? What challenges will government present, internationally and at home, and how will we overcome these to push through a genuinely transformational programme?	Paul Mason (Best-selling Author and Journalist) John McDonnell (Shadow Chancellor of the Exchequer) Theano Fotiou (Syriza, Alternate Minister of Social Solidarity)	Synergy
19:30 – 21:30 Revolution & Chill: Films @ The World Transformed	From the Mona Lisa to emotional labour, from the refugee crisis to domestic appliances, we'll be screening a selection of films that engage with the ongoing political discourse of the festival. Our night of films will also feature the musical performance piece Encoded Revolt, by Imogen Piper (see pg. 23)	Ft. films by Lewis Firth Bolton, Keira Greene, Ralph Pritchard, Jessye Curtis, Natasha Cox, Tim George Kelly & more	Synergy Arts Cafe
21:15 – 00:30 Acid Corbynism	In what ways are the ideas of the 60's and 70's counterculture relevant to Corbynism? Can consciousness raising and cultural experimentation play a role in overcoming the feeling that there is no alternative to capitalism. Join us to discuss these questions as we explore how the radical ideas and practices that Mark Fisher called 'acid communism' might offer ideas for our current political moment. Organised in memory of Mark Fisher. This session will be accompanied by music and drinks.	Chair: Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL) Lynne Segal (Professor and Author of Radical Happiness) Keir Milburn (Lecturer in Political Economy and Member of Plan C)	Fabrica
20:00 – 21:00 Alpha/Isis/Eden	As a prelude to Acid Corbynism, Laura Oldfield Ford's audio peice Alpha/Isis/Eden will play (see pg. xx). Join us for this collective listening experience.

Tuesday 26th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
09:30 - 10:45 Meet Momentum: Starting From the Bottom Now We're Here	Despite Labour's historic weakness in the South West, the establishment of small community-based Momentum groups in towns across Cornwall led to a surge in campaigning and historic results in the 2017 General Election. Through Momentum, Labour in Cornwall has gone from 3rd or 4th place to being 2nd in 4 out of 6 constituencies, with two marginals. We achieved the 3rd highest swing in the country in Truro & Falmouth. Learn how you can do the same.	Facilitator: Martin Menear (Momentum Activist)	Synergy
09:30 - 10:45 Stuart Hall Reading Group	From Sunday to Tuesday, every morning at 68 Middle Street, Jeremy Gilbert will lead a daily reading group looking at key essays by one of the British left's greatest thinkers. All welcome - prior reading is advisable, but not compulsory. All texts are available online for free. Sunday: Stuart Hall (1958), A Sense of Classlessness [see pg. 13] Monday: Stuart Hall (1979), The Great Moving Right Show [see pg. 26] Tuesday: Stuart Hall (2011), The Neoliberal Revolution	Facilitator: Jeremy Gilbert (Professor of Cultural and Political Theory at UEL)	68 Middle Street Board Room
10:00 - 11:45 Party Time	Where does power lie within the Labour Party? It's a question that's baffled many of Labour's most seasoned activists, but in this session we'll attempt an answer. We'll look at the NEC, HQ, conference committees & candidate selections, and discover how power in the party has as much to do with informal agreements and backroom deals as it does with any rulebook.	Michael Walker (Labour Party Member and Novara Media)	68 Middle Street

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
09:30 – 11:00 Operation Hedgehog	Operation Hedgehog aims to ‘train the trainers.’ We’ll train you to deliver fun, interactive workshops that will help people in your community win arguments over the economy, progressive policies and a fair future. Or in other words, we’ll work on countering the ‘common sense’ economic arguments we hear in the pub while avoiding boring people stiff! Organised by War on Want & Talk Socialism	Lead Facilitator: Jamie Driscoll (Talk Socialism) Nadia Idle (War on Want) Rachel Broadbent (Talk Socialism) Carl Kennedy (Talk Socialism)	Fabrica
11:00 – 13:00 Arming Repression Organised by War on Want and Campaign Against the Arms Trade (CAAT)	UK weapons are being used in brutal occupation and the repression of civilian populations in Palestine, Yemen and beyond. UK policy, if properly applied, should prohibit arms exports to regimes like Israel and Saudi Arabia, who use the weapons to commit war crimes. Yet a lack of political will and scrutiny has allowed UK companies to continue these deadly deals for too long. This session will provide insight from activists on the campaigns to end the UK’s complicity in violations of international law around the world.	Chair: Ann Feltham (Parliamentary coordinator, CAAT) Ryvka Barnard (Senior Campaigns Officer for War On Want) David Wearing (Teaching Fellow in International Relations, Royal Holloway) Akram Salhab (Palestinian Organiser) Sayed AlWadaei (Bahrain Institute for Rights and Democracy)	Synergy
11:00 – 13:30 Brandalism: Community Billboard Workshop	Join Brandalism in the Arts Cafe for a participatory arts activism workshop to create your own community art billboard. This session will see us collectively challenge the values, attitudes and messages that consumerism normalises by imagining alternatives to corporate controlled messages in our public spaces.		Synergy Arts Cafe

Tuesday 26th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
11:00 – 12:45 Who Runs Britain: the Many or the Few? How the Elite Continue to Rule Britain in Their Own Interests	British democracy has been subverted by the Few at the expense of the Many. Neoliberalism is the entrenched ideology within the British Establishment and permeates through the state. As a result our very democracy has been slowly eroded and undermined. How has this come about and what can be done about it?	Jon Trickett MP (Shadow Minister for the Cabinet Office) Laura Pidcock MP (MP for North West Durham) Mark Serwotka (General Secretary, PCS)	Fabrica
11:00 – 12:40 Watch This Space!	It's been a busy year so we're a little late putting this session together. There will be something fantastic happening in this slot, so check our website and app for the latest announcements. Don't miss out!	TBC	Komedia Main Space
11:00 – 12:40 Winning Scotland Back To Labour	With Scotland having the highest proportion of marginal seats for Labour, it's clear that if we want to see Jeremy Corbyn enter No.10 we need to win Scotland back to Labour. Campaign for Socialism will be debating how we do that, and how we move politics on from the constitutional wrangling that has dominated Scottish politics for so long. The ideas debated here could be the difference between another Tory government and a Corbyn-led Labour government - it's that crucial.	Grant Aitken (Scottish Labour Young Socialists) Neil Findlay (MSP for the Lothians) Danielle Rowley (MP for Midlothian) Rhea Wolfson (NEC Rep)	Komedia Studio

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 - 14:40 Corbynism From Below	‘Corbynism from Below’ will focus on three critical movement goals: building community and workplace solidarity; democratising and opening up the Labour Party so that it truly reflects the needs and concerns of working and marginalised people; and delivering upon the promise of Corbynism and Labour’s manifesto, in and outside of government. We’ll discuss why these aims are vital to both the Corbyn project and the wider labour movement, how we can make them a reality, and the challenges that will confront us along the way. Organised by New Socialist	Chair: Tom Gann (Co-editor, New Socialist) Dawn Foster (Guardian Columnist) Maya Goodfellow (Writer and Researcher) Laura Pidcock (MP for North West Durham) Hilary Wainwright (Co-editor, Red Pepper Magazine) Matt Zarb-Cousin (Former Spokesperson for Jeremy Corbyn)	Synergy

13:00 - 14:40 Moving to a Just Migration Policy	Over 5,000 people drowned in the Mediterranean last year as a result of Europe’s violent borders. We urgently need a just alternative where people can migrate without risking their lives but that also tackles the conflict, economic injustices and climate chaos that deny people in the global South the right to dignified lives. It’s time to change the conversation on migration and stop a just migration policy being only a utopian dream.	Asad Rehman (War on Want) Aisha Dodwell (Global Justice Now) Manuel Cortes (General Secretary, TSSA) Gurminder Bhambra (Professor of Postcolonial and Decolonial Studies)	Synergy
--	--	--	---------

13:00 - 14:40 The Left in Power Organised by Jacobin	We’re decades removed from the last wave of social-democratic advance, and much has changed since, politically and economically. What can a left-government accomplish in today’s conditions, how do we rebuild working-class power, and what kind of opposition can we expect to encounter? Capital strikes, disinvestment—socialist governments dealt with these in the 1970s and ‘80s, and there are lessons to be learned from how they succeeded and failed.	Costas Lapavitsas (former Syriza MP) Guillaume Long (former Ecuadorian Foreign Minister) Catarina Principe (Political Committee of Bloco de Esquerda in Portugal)	Komedia Main Space
---	---	---	-----------------------

Tuesday 26th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
13:00 – 14:40 Socialism for Swing Voters	Labour's socialists face new questions. Our army of activists now also has to persuade a very broad range of voters to back transformative politics. Who can make up a winning alliance? What techniques, ideas and attitudes will bring it about? How can we hold it together? Organised by Open Labour Chair: Cllr Tom Miller (Open Labour National Committee) Rosie Duffield (MP for Canterbury) Lloyd Russell-Moyle (MP for Brighton Kemptown)	Emma Burnell (Open Labour National Committee) Jawad Khan (GMB Young Members) Dr Matthew Sowemimo (Compass)	Komedia Studio
14:30 – 16:30 The Collective Matter of Making	An ongoing project exploring the symbiotic relationship between making and thinking. Through daily drop-in workshops we invite you to mould, model and get messy together; using clay as a medium for creative collaboration and social engagement, and making as a vessel for thinking. As Donna Haraway once said 'good thinking always happens at the moment of speechlessness'.	Emily Woolley (Artist and Member of School of the Damned)	Synergy Arts Cafe
15:00 – 16:50 The End of Neoliberalism?	The cracks in the neoliberal consensus appear to be widening, and an increasing number of people are beginning to look through the breach and catch glimpses of a world beyond. But what even is neoliberalism? What does Brexit tell us about its stability? How has it shaped culture and society over the last thirty years? And if it is falling apart, what comes after?	Ruth Potts (Co-editor, Red Pepper) Paul Mason (Author of PostCapitalism) Clive Lewis (MP for Norwich South) Jo Littler (Author of Against Meritocracy) Valery Alzaga (Labour Organiser and Migrant Rights Activist)	Komedia Studio

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
15:00 – 16:40 After Brexit, A Divided Society?	It's now commonplace to hear how we live in a divided society. For some, the referendum revealed a cleavage between a liberal metropolitan elite comfortable with globalisation and a former industrial working class left behind by it. But do such descriptions reflect reality? Or do they hide deeper, different divisions? And how can the Labour Party lead the way in healing divides without resorting to simplistic stereotypes or scapegoating? Join us and find out.	Maya Goodfellow (Journalist and Researcher) Dawn Butler (MP for Brent Central) Ellen Clifford (DPAC) Owen Jones (Journalist and Author)	Fabrika
15:00 – 16:50 It Was the Kids that Done It	In a matter of weeks all the assumptions about young people and politics were turned on their head. Not only were they turning out at rallies, but young people recorded their highest turnout in a general election in 25 years—a stark contrast to the EU referendum, and a source of frustration for a political elite that has benefited from apathy. Join us to find out exactly what is happening, and where a newly emerging generational politics might take us.	Chair: Liam Young (Journalist & Author) Cat Smith MP (Shadow Minister for Voter Engagement and Youth Affairs) Amal Bider (Momentum and Grenfell Activist) Abi Wilkinson (Guardian Journalist) Huda Elmi (Member of Momentum NCG)	Komedia Main Space
15:30 – 17:00 Does Political Theatre Still Exist?	Theatre is often seen as an inaccessible and elite art form, but its capacity to immerse an audience in the lives of other people has the power to challenge our assumptions about each other and ourselves. Join us and hear from actors, directors and writers about the radical potential of theatre and its role in shaping our understanding of the world. Organised by Hydrocracker Theatre Company	Jem Wall (Director, Hydrocracker) Stephanie Street (Playwright) Naomi Alexander (Producer and Director) Judith Hibberd (Creative Producer for Hydrocracker)	68 Middle Street

Tuesday 26th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
15:00 – 16:50 Another Handmaid's Tale	In poor communities, 45% of children are reported to social services. Poverty is used to allege 'neglect,' treat mothers as surrogates for fostering and adoption without consent, inflicting lifelong trauma on thousands of children. Single mothers are most at risk, especially if they report rape or domestic violence, are of colour, or have a disability. A growing movement is breaking the silence and picketing secretive family courts. It is reflected in Labour's manifesto. Mothers, women's organisations, professionals, MPs – and you – speak out.	Chair: Nina Lopez (Support not Separation) Cristel Amiss (Black Women's Rape Action Project) Selma James (Global Women's Strike & author of Sex, Race and Class) Emma Lewell-Buck MP (Shadow Minister for Children and Families) Anne Neale (Legal Action for Women)	Komedia Studio
17:30 – 18:30 Pounding Politics on to the Pavement	With record numbers of young people voting and activists pounding the pavements, now is the moment to go bigger and brighter. This round table discussion will explore, critique and generate new ideas for organised arts activism, ready for mobilisations in the streets & online at key political moments. What could youth or community led, political art campaigns look like? How could they change the game? What are our next steps?	Barney Francis (Brandalism) Jenny Nelson (Activist & Journalist) Elenor Penny (Novara Media) Tim Jeeves (Artists for Corbyn)	Synergy Arts Cafe
17:30 – 19:30 Film Screening - Dispossession: The Great Social Housing Swindle	With unprecedented access to residents, politicians and experts, Dispossession is the story of people fighting for their communities, of people who know the difference between a house and a home, and who believe that housing is a human right, not a luxury. Join us for a special screening of the film that uncovers the catastrophic failures that have led to a chronic shortage of social housing in the UK. Followed by a Q&A with the director, Paul Sng. There is a £3 suggested donation for this session in order to help cover costs.	Paul Sng (Director, Dispossession)	68 Middle Street

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
17:30 – 19:30 Out of the Wreckage: A New Politics for an Age of Crisis Organised by War on Want	A toxic ideology rules the world – of extreme competition and individualism. It misrepresents human nature, destroying hope and common purpose. Only a positive vision can replace it, a new story that re-engages people in politics and lights a path to a better world. George Monbiot explains how new findings in neuroscience and evolutionary biology cast human nature in a radically different light: as the supreme altruists and cooperators.	George Monbiot (Journalist and Author of Out of the Wreckage)	Fabrica
17:30 – 19:30 No is Not Enough: Visions for a New World Organised by War on Want	We have less than a decade before we breach critical climate thresholds. More people in the global South will face killer floods, droughts, the collapse of food systems and forced migration. Climate change is fanning the flames of a crisis of neoliberalism, Empire and inequality. We need a rapid transformation away from our current economic model and towards a new one. We'll discuss how we connect these issues & achieve this aim. This session will begin with an introductory speech by Jeremy Corbyn and a solidarity poem from Shareefa Grassroots (Grenfell).	Naomi Klein (Author of No is Not Enough) Asad Rehman (War on Want) Shareefa Grassroots (Grenfell Activist) Jeremy Corbyn MP (Labour Leader) Diane Abbott MP (Shadow Home Secretary)
18:30 – 19:30 Young Gypsy and Travellers' Issues Organised by Friends Families and Travellers	Gypsies and Travellers face high levels of racism and social exclusion. They also have the highest rate of homelessness in the UK, as local authorities are failing to provide enough sites. The Government has also changed the definition of 'Gypsy', meaning the elderly, young people and women can be excluded from having somewhere to live. Is this to blame for the increase in the number of roadside camps? Come and hear about the issues facing Gypsy and Traveller communities in the UK today.	Kate Green (MP for Stretford and Urmston)	Community Base

Tuesday 26th

Time / Title	Info	Speakers	Venue
18:30 - 19:00 The Cheerleading Squad: Against Climate Change	As the sea's temperature increases so does its mass. Will we wait for the rising of the masses or the rising sea level before we act on climate change? Taking action in formation, The Cheerleading Squad gather momentum as they invite people to cheer with them.	Liam Geary Baulch liamgb.co.uk	Synergy Arts Cafe
20:00 - 22:30 Party Politics: The World Transformed Pub Quiz	Know your Karl Marx from your Kinnock? Your New Left from your New Labour? If you do, then this is the quiz for you. We'll be taking a tour through UK political history and current affairs, mixing drinks with gruelling quiz competition to find out who really knows their stuff. Join us and everyone under Labour's big tent to fight it out for honour of The World Transformed quiz champions.	Your Host: Ed Milliband (Former Leader of the Labour Party)
20:00 - 10:00 The Fix Live @ The World Transformed	Bringing their popular political chat show The Fix to The World Transformed 2017, Novara Media will be getting our party started in style, bringing you the best guests and the slickest hosts as they mix political chat, music and more with a live audience. Think the chaos of TFI Friday with the class of the Met Gala. Join the Novara team and a host of special guests as they help us close out The World Transformed in style. This will be the first segment of our closing party (pg. 11), and will require a separate party ticket. Tickets will be available on the door or at theworldtransformed.org/get-tickets	  Micheal Walker (Novara Media)   Emma Dent-Coad (MP for Kensington)     Owen Jones (Journalist)   Bhaskar Sunkara (Jacobin)     Matt Zarb-Cousins (Former Spokesperson for Jeremy Corbyn)   Clive Lewis (MP for Norwich South)     Lloyd Russell-Moyle (MP for Brighton Kemptown)   Ava Vidal (Comedian)     Shon Faye (Novara Media)  	Synergy

1

Synergy Centre, 78 West St

2

68 Middle Street

3

Friends Meeting House, Ship St

4

Fabrica, 39 Duke St

5

Sallis Benney Theatre,
58-67 Grand Parade

6

Komedia, 44-47 Gardner St

7

Community Base, 113 Queens Rd

8

PLATF9RM, 44 North Road

9

Brighthelm Centre, North Rd

T

Brighton Train Station

LP

Brighton Centre (LP Conference), Kings Rd

